

FINANCE-LED CUSTOMER OBSESSION IN THE AGE OF DATA

It's no longer enough to be customer focused in today's marketplace; competitive survival now depends on customer obsession. Finance leaders have data and insight that uniquely positions them to lead initiatives that will enhance the customer experience and build better relationships.

But customer obsession requires the integration and collaboration of data across the entire organization. The key to success for finance leaders driving profitable customer obsession efforts is the Dun & Bradstreet D-U-N-S® Number.

It's up to finance to turn customer focus into customer obsession.

The D-U-N-S Number is the key to fully unlocking truth and meaning in business relationships.

POSITIVE FINANCIAL RETURNS

TRANSFORMING CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIPS WITH DATA

Relationships are central to customer obsession, but in the age of data they're not as simple as they used to be.

"What are the biggest obstacles to leveraging data and analytics to drive decisions and strategy?"

of CFOs say departmental silos make it difficult to get insight from business stakeholders say lack of data integration/data is siloed say difficulty aggregating data from different sources say disparate ways of calculating and looking at KPIs across the organization

Finance can promote customer-obsessed operating models through:

Leading the customer-obsessed conversation

Extending financial insights to include the wider customer experience

Integrating cross-functionally across the organization

Investing in data and technology

Finance can stimulate deeper relationships with data competency and data-driven strategy.

ONE MASTER KEY TO UNLOCK IT ALL: THE D-U-N-S NUMBER

With the D-U-N-S Number, finance leaders can integrate data and stimulate deeper relationships to build an operating model that is truly customer-obsessed.
